

To Future Retrouvaille Weekend Couples

Prior to our attendance at the Oct 17-19, 2008, Retrouvaille weekend, my wife and I were somewhat concerned regarding the spiritual aspects of the program as we have had a number of uncomfortable run-ins with organized religion. However, we decided that the weekend was too important to stop us but we would be wary none the less.

Today, we are 1 Saturday away from completing the Retrouvaille program and our initial fears and/or concerns were just that: fears and concerns that never materialized.

While all of the presenters are devoted and practice their faith, they are impartial as regards your own spirituality.

The Retrouvaille program does not "preach" nor "try to convert" any of the participants at any time.

If you have similar doubts as we had, please do not let them prevent you from attending your Retrouvaille weekend and begin to travel the road back to a better marriage.

Yours truly,

Alec & Judi Martin
